"Just writing to let you know that I got a nine in sociology! Thank you for your wonderful teaching of the course. It was engaging and interesting throughout and I could not have got that mark without your skills and support."

Our GCSE/IGCSE courses offer a wide range of assignments, assessments and papers throughout the duration of the course. These are marked and detailed, personal feedback given. In addition, we have extensive experience working with, and have built positive relationships with, many exam centres across the UK to provide 'course evidence' and 'evidence of progression' - so our learners are in the best position to earn grades in these uncertain times.
